The following article, which was published in the Edgefield advertiser of recent date, no doubt will be of interest to our readers.

The conditions in Texas appear to be just about what they are here with the exception of the boll-weevil infestation. The article is from Brandon Texas.

Well, as I have a little leisure time this evening, I thought I would write a few lines to let you know how we are getting along out here in Texas. We had a rain here at Sept. 16th that stopped cotton picking until this morning. We have weighed six bales today and it may get several more this evening. We have weighed up to the present time 800 bales, about 500 bales more than we had received up to present time last year but the storm we had in August whipped the cotton crop so much that nearly everything has opened on it and nearly all the many are getting over now that there is on it going about row. I don't think the cotton will make more than one third of a bale to the acre. Last year Hill county raised ninety thousand bales, and the estimate now is that they will raise less than half over. The acreage was cut down, good dead late spring and the land planted in wheat, corn and other feed stuffs. So the farmers have plenty to run them next year around some to sell. The storm we had in August cut the cotton crop a good deal. The tops of the stalks looked like we had had a heavy frost and it took some time for it to start to grow. Some has not started to grow yet. Some has a full form or top of the stalk but unless the frost is late it will not make anything even if the boll weevil takes care, it won't do much harm to the crop. The report is that the weevils are destroying all the farms (cotton) by selling here today for 10-12 cents per pound. The yield is very low. It has sold for three quarters and eleven. The farmers are in a better condition than they were last fall for most every one has had money left their feet to buy seedling and dry goods and grocery bills to pay but most of them have been slow about running in debt this year and have only bought what they were compelled to have. I think last year taught them a lesson that will keep them from doing that again. If the wheat acreage will increase a good deal another year and probably hit the oat crop also. They have found out that it is easier to raise what they need at home than to raise cotton and buy everything.

LONDON VIEWS CONFLICT.
One Financial Expert Says Terms of Loan Are Reasonable

London, Oct. 1.—The Daily Telegraph writes tonight in referring to the American loan to the Allies:

"The general view in the city was that if the reported terms of the $500,000,000 American loan were direct, the bankers and the public in the United States have secured unique opportunity for investment." "It seems doubtful to the borrowing government whether it can obtain such a cent. This rates seem very high, and will undoubtedly cause much rejoicing in German newspapers, who affect the pretense that German credit is better than English, but no one knows better than Dr. Helfferich that the Germans could not raise £500,000,000 in the United States on any terms whatever. While Americans understand that it is to their own interest that their exports may not be checked, they are also clever enough to realize that they would not buy from them if we did not need the goods."

One of the highest financial experts of London, with a reputation to speak with special authority on the subject of the Franco-English loan, said that certain critics made regarding the terms did not reflect the best London opinion. Special conditions necessitated special terms, and those obtained by Lord Reading's commission were not very different from what had been expected when the commission called.

DASH OF FRENCH CAVALRY

Caused Germans to Leave Marsa el Borty on the Field.

Paris, Sept. 30—"It was by no means easy work," said one of the wounded at the Grand Pains Hospital in describing the battle of Champagne on Saturday. "Never have we seen anything like their barbed wire entanglements. Our shells ploughed up thousands of stalks, but there was an innumerable number left which we had to pull up under the enemy's fire. The wire was so thick it was extremely hard to cut. In many places our attacking columns came a distance of several miles, and the defenses, behind which the Germans lurked. We pelted them with bombs as hard as we could and the sappers who came behind us did the rest.

The machine guns which stormed at us—that's why so many of us were hit in the legs—were soon put out of business. Then our cavalry turned up. They had gone so long without a chance to fight on horseback that they were keen to get into it. It was a fine dash, and the Germans bolted on all sides. What they left behind in the way of materials, arms, effects and equipment was unimaginable. Their fight turned into a panic when they saw our African contingents after them. The Africans certainly then up, fearfully with the bayonet.

An officer with a bayonet wound in one arm spoke enthusiastically of the methodical and orderly manner in which the French infantry fought. When the rally sounded all the men formed in their proper sections.

"They all are veterans now," said the officer, "and know their profession thoroughly. The Germans felt the whirlwind of this grand army."

GERMANS CRITICISE LOAN.

Argue That Allies Must Buy in Bad Financial Condition.

Berlin, Sept. 30—The Anglo-French loan which is being raised in the United States has aroused great interest in Germany.

"Leading financiers of Berlin," says the Overseas News Agency, "agree that, although British dispatches leave some features of the loan in doubt, the conditions are very unfavorable for England and France are paying about 6 per cent interest.

"It is generally believed also that in addition to the bonus of 2 per cent, paid to the syndicate of underwriters other bonuses will be given, particularly according to the American custom, to the leading house. It is probable that the share accorded to Russia will be small, if any part of the loan goes to that nation, although the Russian Minister of Finance is now in London.

"In some quarters it is remarked that if the loan is offered for public subscription it will be a strange kind of neutrality on the part of a country which also finances sales of war material to Germany's enemies. The general impression is that the financial situation of England and France is such as to leave them no choice. This is indicated by the fact that a 4 per cent. bonus was given to the syndicate."

Parker and Westervelt Get Enoree Mill Property.

Spartanburg, Oct. 1.—Lew's W. Parker and associates get the property of the Enoree Manufacturing company at their bid of $200,000, according to a decision rendered by Judge Sease this afternoon. Three days ago Judge Sease issued an order directing A. M. Law, receiver of the Enoree company to show cause why he should not accept payment for the property offered by Messrs. Parker, Westervelt and others despite the fact that they had not been able to meet their obligations on the day set, which was some weeks ago. The hearing today was the result of that order.

Among the well known attorneys appearing before Judge Sease in behalf of Messrs. Parker and Westervelt, were William Elliot of Columbia, W. Parker of Greenville, Sanders P. Cothran, Hamill Beattie and Lew's W. Parker of reenville, Sanders and DeWane and John Gary Evans of the local bar also appeared for the Greenville parties. Mr. Law was represented by Bomar and Osborne.

The balance due on the property is $190,000.

PECULIAR EYES OF FISHES

Scientific Study Has Demonstrated Many Facts Not Hitherto Known to the World.

In the effort to discover why fishes are so near-sighted, scientists have been making some remarkable experimental studies of their eyes. One of the most interesting facts which these studies revealed was that fishes' eyes compared with human eyes are relatively large. The eyeballs of the eyes of a fish is ordinarily about one-twentieth of its length, while the length of the eyeball of a man is from a sixteenth to a seventeenth of his height.

The eyes of fishes are in constant use except when they are asleep. Most fishes have no eyelids, their eyes being protected from injury by a shiny material or by a thick transparent skin. The puffer, or swellfish, which habitually burrows in sand at the bottom of the water, has eyelids which cover the eyeballs when closed. The lower eyelid being larger than the upper.

In the experimental work the eyes of normal fishes were first examined with the microscope, then by electrical stimulation the focus was changed from distant to near objects.

It was found that, contrary to statements sometimes made, the eyes of fishes when swimming were focused for distant vision. Fishes are able to focus their eyes on near objects—as close as four inches—by the action of the superior and inferior muscles; they have no ciliary muscles. It was found possible by operation on the oblique muscles to make a fish near-sighted, far-sighted, or astigmatic.

LESSON FROM THE FLOWERS

Gentleness and Tolerance Are Taught by Sweet Things of Garden and Field.

What a freedom from cares and perplexities one finds among the flowers. They are never unkind, you may be with them from morning till night and not have one bitter memory or disagreeable thought to take with you to your pillow. A lily won't dig its claws into your breast, the calla lily will not prolong her call indefinitely. The sweet william's honest personality is honest and sincere, sweetness that will not under fancied provocation turn into vinegary revenge.

The snowdrops will not chill you with cold words and looks. The dog-wood will not bark at you or dog your footsteps. There is a clump of the beautiful variegated variety bending into a quiet corner of the landscape, its pretty leaves reflected in the water. It has no canine faults, but all the canine virtues, fidelity—no running away from the mistress to follow strange masters. Jack in the pulpit does not preach too loudly or make awkward gestures, taking your mind entirely from the heavenly message he is striving to deliver and which your soul desires to grasp, the mind being willing but the body weak.

The Sweetest Thing We Know.

So far as we know, Galileo was the first to try to verify the suspicion that light was not really free from the conditions which trammeled ordinary motion. In his endeavor to measure the speed of light, Galileo stationed two observers a couple of miles apart at night each armed with a dark lantern. One of them suddenly darkened his lantern, and the other was instructed to do the same, the moment that light was not really free from the conditions which trammeled ordinary motion. ## Surely Prize Scarecrow.

An American tourist had been boasting again in the village inn, says London "Tit-Bits." "Talking of scarecrows," he said, "with a draw, 'why, my father once saw one up, and it frightened the crows so much that not one entered the field again for a year." He looked triumphantly around his audience. Surely that had settled those country bumpkins. But he was to meet his match. "That's nothing," retorted one farmer. "A neighbor of mine once put a scarecrow into his potato patch and it terrified the birds so much that one rascal of a crow who had stolen some potatoes came next day and put them back."

The Locust as Human Food.

The curious species of insect life, known as the locust, which, according to its family traditions, visits and parts its respects to the outside world once in 13 or 17 years, has furnished much food for discussion among scientists, students and farmers. In addition to these there are others who anticipate with pleasure the advent of the locust, for whatever might be said about the strange creature, in spite of its destructive ability and its appetite for choice foliage, it has one good quality which was probably discovered by no less a person than John the Baptist when he decided that specimens which he found in the desert were good to eat.

THE BOLL WEEVIL COMING.

It is a well known fact that the boll weevil is gradually advancing north. The government agents report that this cotton pest has been coming this way at the rate of fifty miles per year. This year on an account of certain conditions, the pest has advanced one hundred miles and is now in the Southern part of our neighbor state, Georgia.

If one were to see a cyclone or a storm coming he certainly would waste no time preparing for it to the best of his ability. The boll weevil, so to speak, is the cyclone and all indications are that it will reach this section in a very few years. This being the case, it is not unbecomingly unwise to prepare for the invasion.

How are we to do this? The only practical way, as we see it, is to learn how to make a living without raising cotton. When this pest enters our territory, the loss of cotton we have the right to take is a disaster. We should raise grain, get into the cattle business, or try a little tobacco just to see what we can do with it. To defeat the approaching enemy we must assuredly must get away from cotton for at least a few years.

In about two weeks the Chester county fair will be held and it is to be hoped the exhibit shown at this fair will do much to educate the people. If you have something which would be beneficial to your neighbor or any one else bring it to the fair and place it on exhibition. Because you do not win a prize it does not signify that you have failed to be beneficial to the community at large. Let's try to make the coming fair the best the county has ever had, and remember the better part of a fair does not end on the last day of the fair. The real success of a county fair takes place after the fair is all over with it. It is the other many ideas that go to make a really successful fair. And in attending the fair one should make a special effort to learn how to defeat the approaching enemy, the boll weevil.

WILL IT PAY?

The New York Central Railway System, which includes several large lines, is now building in conjunction with every new station, what is to be known as a "kissing gallery". This new feature is an elevated platform where passengers are requested to take leave of their friends and kiss to the limit of their emotion.

In all probability this railroad has been forced to settle some claims for personal injuries which were caused by passengers kissing instead of boarding the train at the proper time. It does seem rather odd that people will stand around and wait until a train is ready to leave the station before bidding each other good-bye. We believe, New York Central, should go a little farther and request that passengers must cease kissing just before the train comes to a stop. This would save a few minutes train delay on each trip.

Is Your Boy Your Pal?

If your boy in youthful exuberance and lack of foresight, should do something that afterward he was really ashamed of, would he come to you, own up to it like a little man and say he'd made a chump out of himself, that he realized it and would never do it again in just that way? If not, then there's something wrong with you or your boy. There is no better way to raise a boy than to make a pal out of him. The mother should pal with him and the father should pal with him. You should enter into that wonderful brain your boy has and become a part of his life. You should get his viewpoint, look at things as he looks at them. You should do as he does and make a pal out of him. He is vibrant with the joy of living. He wants to know what life is and is perfectly willing, usually, to live it as it should be lived. If you will show him the way, remember he has rights in the way you have. Remember that young patients are powerful patients. They need to be directed so that they will become virtuous. No boy that is worth his salt wants to view life from the inside of a wall. He wants to live and he round him with prohibitive laws that make his life miserable. Good people, even, won't stand that. Teach him that commands must be obeyed, but make those commands reasonable and with a proper regard for the boy's liberty. Teach him proper personal conduct and above all, teach him to let other people live—EX.

GOVERNOR MANNING'S ADVISE TO FARMERS

To the Farmers of South Carolina: I desire to call your attention to a matter, that, to my mind, is of grave concern to every citizen of our State.

The boll weevil has reached the Atlanta district, in Georgia. The agricultural committee of the board of trustees of Clemson college, at a meeting held Sept. 29 and 30, has considered the alarming aspects of this matter and has taken steps to bring the matter to the attention of our farmers so that they can at once prepare for this disaster when it reaches us. The government maps and reports show the boll weevil has advanced between 50 and 100 miles towards us this season. They have another month or more in which to advance still further in our direction. I am not an alarmist, but together with the other trustees of Clemson college, I feel the responsibility as so serious that action should be taken at once in order to meet this threatened calamity, and plans are now being formulated by the Clemson college board looking to this end. I will, at a later date, give these plans and suggestion to the public. In the meantime let our large farmers throughout the State to sea wheat, oats, rye, clovers and other winter crops, in preparation for money crops other than cotton, to be grown next year.

I urge our people also to fix their eyes on plans for raising hogs, cattle and other live stock. I urge this matter most seriously, and assure them that I will advise on what I know to be facts. The increased price of cotton and the spread of the boll weevil, still further reducing the yield of cotton, will in preference to other crops, lead to fix their eyes on an increase in cotton acreage. This in my judgment, will mean disaster. I say it advisedly. Again, I urge that everything points to the appearance of the boll weevil in South Carolina within a much shorter time than previously anticipated would indicate, and it behooves us as sensible people to give this matter our best thought and to prepare for it accordingly. We must not regard it as one of those matters which may not come to us in a distant future. We believe that the boll weevil will not be here.

Again, I urge upon our people to plant food crops and raise money crops other than cotton.

Richard L. Manning, Governor.

Services At Fishing Cr. Ok.

We are requested to "announce that at Fishing Creek Presbyterian church, near Rodman in this County, the late instant, at eleven o'clock the forenoon, there will be held special services conducted by Elders John A. Hafner and R. B. Caldwell, of this city, under appointment of Bethel Presbytery. This is one of the oldest churches in the county and has an splendid history, but like most country churches its activities the past few years have been very much limited on account of a reduced membership due to removals and deaths. Through the beneficence of one of its former members, the late Mrs. Julia A. Farley, this church has recently come into possession of a considerable legacy and it is the expectation that an active past or will soon be engaged and that this old church will take on new life and vigor will once again be numbered among the leaders of her denomination. We are especially asked to say that all members and friends of this

Mayor Griffith, Of Columbia, Re-moved as Head Of Police.

Mayor Lewis A. Griffith was removed from the position of councilman-superintendent of the Columbia police department and Councilman Dupre was assigned as head of that department by a resolution adopted in an exclusive session of city council early yesterday afternoon. The resolution was submitted by Councilman Ashbill.

The vote on the resolution was: Aye, Councilmen Ashbill, Rice and Dupre; no, Councilmen Keenan and Mayor Griffith.

Councilman Keenan voted "no" because "the mayor will be investigated by a committee of council and because I think this resolution is premature." Mayor Griffith said that he voted against the resolution for the same reasons offered by Councilman Keenan.

Councilman Dupre voted in favor of the resolution because he wanted to see "this question settled and because I desire the police department."

The resolution follows: "Whereas in the judgment of council, it is necessary to the city of Columbia and especially to the police department that a change be made in the councilman-superintendent of said department; Now, therefore, be it resolved, That Ernest M. Dupre be and is hereby assigned the councilman-superintendent of the police department in the place of Lewis A. Griffith, to take effect immediately."

As a companion resolution Councilman Ashbill also offered the following, which was adopted by the same division vote: "That Lewis A. Griffith be elected a member of the city school board and assigned the electrical department in place of Ernest M. Dupre."

The reasons for voting on this resolution was the same as given by the former one.

Councilman Dupre said after the meeting that he had no plans for the future conduct of the police department and that he would confer with the chief of police before outlining or considering any changes.

Mayor Griffith said that he had nothing to say—Columbia Star.

Submarine No Longer Dredged Conf.

But the greatest single factor, it is said has been a newly designed fleet of small seagoing motor boats of high speed with one or two three-inch guns. These boats literally swarm over suspected expenses of the water, and by an effectively worked out system of patrol cover almost every mile of the surface in channels of commerce adjacent in Great Britain. As a submarine must frequently rise to renew its air supply and recharge the storage batteries by which it is propelled when submerged, any submarine in the territory covered by the boats is almost certain to be eventually detected and destroyed. These small boats have been built in large numbers in England and it is reported that about 500 of them are being constructed in the United States and Canada to be shipped in sections to Great Britain.

Aeroplanes are described as exceedingly useful in locating and following the trail of submarines. They can detect one even 100 feet beneath the surface. It is the habit the reports say, of the German submarines to slip into favorable position along the steamer lanes and lie on the bottom for long periods, rising occasionally for observation and other purposes. Under such boats adopting these tactics have been the most difficult to catch. Here the aeroplanes has shown its greatest usefulness. The aeroplane notes the position and notifies the nearest destroyer or patrol boat which speeds to the spot and waits for the submarine.

Among the sterling aids is a splendid external remedy known as "Mother's Friend." It is what is called an embrocation. It is applied to the abdominal muscles, gently rubbed in by your own hand guided by your own mind. It makes the impatient, they expand quite naturally and the effect upon the nerves is such that they adjust themselves to the process of expansion so that pain from this source is almost eliminated. Women who use "Mother's Friend" refer to the absence of morning sickness, they are relieved of a great many minor distresses, all apprehensions disappear and those peculiar nervous "dangers" no longer disturb the night. It is well named "Mother's Friend." Get a bottle today of any drug store. Then at once write for a most interesting and instructive book for all prospective mothers. ## CHESTER ONE OF THE BEST COUNTIES IN THE STATE

CHESTER ONE OF THE BEST COUNTIES IN THE STATE.

We Have The Facilities With Which to Make a Most Prosperous County—Excellent Farming Lands And Advantages.

Chester county is about to have its fifth annual fair and it is incumbent upon the people as a whole to make this a great success. The benefits to be derived from a County fair are too numerous to be mentioned.

We have a great agricultural county, and cotton mills, machine shops and various other manufacturing enterprises. Four different lines of railway enter the county and an abundance of electric power furnished by the Southern Power Co. is located in the lower section of the county on Catawba river. We have five banking institutions which are unexcelled by any in the state.

School and church buildings are among the best to be found. There are 121 school buildings in the county, including both white and colored. Three excellent schools in the county seat.

The county has a population of about 35,000 and markets annually about 37,000 bales of cotton.

The city of Chester has all the conveniences of a modern city. Electric lights, water and sewerage, doubtless will within the next year spend $250,000 in street and other improvements.

The business houses of Chester class with the best in the state. Excellent lines of goods are carried and it is seldom necessary to leave Chester for any commodity one may wish.

Agricultural Possibilities.

Chester county has some of the most fertile lands to be found in the South. The natural drainage of this section is excellent, and this

PARKER, N. C., MAN GETS QUICK RELIEF

W. R. Davenport Better After First Dose of Remedy.

W. R. Davenport of Parker, N. C., long suffered from a peculiar malady of the stomach. He sought treatment with but little relief. At times it seemed that he would have to give up hope.

He took May's Wonderful Remedy and found immediate benefit. He wrote:

"For years I have suffered from a disease which puzzled doctors. They termed it catarrh of the stomach, saying the only hope would be a change of climate, and that in all probability I would never get well. Then I heard of your remedy. One bottle gave me instant relief. It made me feel like a new man. Your full course of treatment has about cured me. Several of my friends have also been cured."

May's Wonderful Remedy gives permanent results for stomach, liver and intestinal ailments. Eat as much and whatever you like. No more distress after eating, pressure of gas in the stomach and around the heart. Get one bottle of your druggist now and try it on an absolute guaranty—if not satisfactory money will be returned.

CHARLOTTE BOOSTERS IN CHESTER YESTERDAY.

The Charlotte "Boosters" which were scheduled to arrive yesterday afternoon at 5:30 were delayed en route and did not arrive until about 6:30. They were met at the station by a committee and escorted to the Commercial Club rooms, where a general acquaintance was made. The band, which accompanied the "Boosters" furnished music for the crowd.

The delay in arriving necessitated a very short stay in Chester and as one of the Boosters said, "We just have time to let you know Charlotte is still on the map."
